UTC Acknowledgment Letter

Since making a commitment in 2008 to implement the European Charter for Researchers and Code of Conduct for their Recruitment, Université de technologie de Compiègne has brought its recruitment procedures into line with that document. In 2016 UTC was awarded the 'HR Excellence in Research' label by the European Commission. This is a mark of recognition by the European Commission of UTC's efforts in improving the working conditions and career development opportunities for its researchers and in providing a clear plan of action for future developments. We are determined to play our part in encouraging more young people into research careers.

At UTC we believe that excellence in research and education means offering the best possible support to students and staff, on whose shoulders UTC's continued success rests. This new distinction is an endorsement of that philosophy.
